SUPPORT YOUR INDUSTRY YOUNG PROFESSIONALS

The Ron Shorter Award is AILA's public speaking competition for young professionals in the insurance industry. The Award has been revised in 2021 to meet the increasing demand for online presentation skills. AILA has teamed up with the Australian Institute of Management (AIM) for a first of its kind competition in Australia.

Our three finalists have been selected following a national application process, public speaking training, and a presentation workshop alongside 25 of their peers.

The Award is named in memorial to long-term AILA supporter and competition architect Ron Shorter, who was a former practice manager of Colin Biggers & Paisley until his untimely death in 2012.
