Rooftop Level, 480 Queen Street, Brisbane

	SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES
HISTORY OF MASTERCLASS	The Masterclass commenced in 2013 and has been held annually since then in Perth, Melbourne and now will be held in Brisbane in 2016. The Masterclass will feature leading Australian and international insurance experts speaking on topics including non-disclosure, good faith, bad faith, policy triggers under professional indemnity wordings, the meaning of accidental damage and the principle of indemnity in property insurance in the context of natural disaster insurance schemes. The Sir Ninian Stephen Masterclass in Insurance Law will be the premier insurance law event for 2016. The high calibre of speakers and topics are aimed at education for senior insurance professionals and industry leaders. The Masterclass will conclude with a drinks reception, which will allow attending delegates to network and discuss the day's program
SIR NINIAN STEPHEN	Sir Ninian Stephen, past Justice of the High Court of Australia and past Australian Governor-General, made significant contributions to the development of insurance law. His judgment in the matter of The Distillers Company Biochemical (Australia) Pty Ltd v Ajax Insurance Company Ltd [1974] HCA 3; (1974) 130 CLR 1, is still regularly referred to more than 40 years later as the starting point for any discussion in relation to the post-contractual duty of utmost good faith and aggregation clauses. The post-contractual duty of utmost good faith connection is particularly apt as 2016 is the 250th anniversary of the seminal utmost good faith case of Carter v Boehm.
AILA	The Australian Insurance Law Association (AILA) is a national non-profit organisation formed to provide a forum for the promotion, review, development and debate of insurance law through seminars, workshops and conferences. AILA (Qld) is honoured to host the Sir Ninian Stephen Masterclass in Insurance Law, which will be a landmark event on the 2016 insurance law industry calendar and the following sponsorship opportunities are available to your company;
