

THE ICARUS INDEMNITY: DRAFTING CLAUSES THAT WON'T MELT IN THE SUN

Presented by:

Jessica Henderson | Barrister, Francis Burt Chambers

Chaired by:

Fiona Dempster | Jackson McDonald

Indemnity clauses are simply about the allocation of risk and the intentional alteration of where liability might otherwise fall as a matter of common law.

Although a straightforward enough concept, badly drafted or misunderstood contractual indemnity clauses are often the source of disputes:

- Where the parties are bargaining with equal power indemnity clauses are likely to be the subject of incremental redrafts by multiple lawyers.
- Where there is a power discrepancy between the parties indemnity clauses may comprise a non-negotiable boilerplate applied without reference to the specific factual matrix of the contract.

In both cases the results can be unpredictable and devastating for the indemnifying and/or indemnified party.

This seminar will provide an overview of the conflicting authorities on contractual indemnities with a view to providing up to date guidance on the drafting of effective indemnity clauses and the construction of existing indemnities.
